C. N. KINNEY, A. C., M. S., CHEMIST OF THE BOARD

Gosh but I am sleepy. I tell you this is pretty late for an old married man to be up. Today is, or rather yesterday was the 13th. Do I believe in signs or omens, not at all. The years roll around. Where will we be in five more, who will have more to show for their same years out of school. Wonder if Drake will raise that $400,000. Hope so. Tomorrow night I go to Omaha, to get the affidavit of the land commissioner of the Union Pacific. Wonder if I will be successful.
My guess for ten years hence is twenty four, O'Kells, and that all the boys in the class will be benedict's them. See how far off I am. I expect to be here, but if I am not write me all about it.
